Joan Harrison will speak about three recent and very different projects that grew out of her photographic obsessions with portraiture and vernacular landscape photography. In 2007 ISLAND to ISLAND: INSPIRED PORTRAITS, Ms. Harrison brought her photographs and that of seven other women photographers to Dimbola Lodge, museum and home of Julia Margaret Cameron on the Isle of Wight. Ms. Harrison began her career as an art photographer working with vintage photographic processes. She now works mainly in the realm of the documentary using digital technology, having found reality can be every bit as magical as the imagination. Harrison is a Professor of Art at the C. W. Post Campus of Long Island University. Her work has been widely exhibited and published. In 2008 Arcadia Press will publish a book of historical photographs: New York Cove
