FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Professional Women Photographers

Announces the

5th Annual PWP Student Awards Program for 2009

DEADLINE MARCH 10, 2009

Call For Entry – Professional Women Photographers is happy to announce its photography open call for entries to all Female High School Students with an enthusiasm for photography. Students can enter into one of two categories, 9th and 10th grade, or 11th and 12th grade. Application Deadline is March 10, 2009. Applications and instructions for student's submissions can be found online at <http://pwponline.org/outreach/awards.php> for download and printing.

PWP Student Awards' 2009 jurors are:

David H. Wells, a free-lance documentary photographer affiliated with Aurora Photos. His work has been in over fifty exhibitions and he has taught workshops at the International Center for Photography in NYC and at the Maine Photographic Workshops.

Kathleen Duxbury-Yeaw, working in Infrared (IR) spectrum, her images are an artistic interpretation of the "invisible light" found on her treks through Europe and North America. "Seeking the Invisible Light," a recent selection from her IR collection, will be on exhibit at the Cottage Place Gallery, Ridgewood, NJ during the month of November 2008. David Lowe is the Assistant to the Photography Curator at the New York Public Library.

David Lowe received his MFA from Pratt Institute (2000) and has exhibited internationally. He is the Photography Specialist for the New York Public Library.

PWP's mission is the advancement of women photographers through the creation a dynamic and supportive environment while promoting public interest in photography. As the premier women's photographic organization, our members create a collegial, proactive and professional culture that respects and inspires women's photographic vision.
